WILTON'S SAVED

£1.85m grant will stop music hall 'falling down'

BY LARAINÉ CLAY

THE future of Wilton's Music Hall has been secured with the award of a £1.85 million lottery grant.

The cash will be used to do up the five Georgian houses that make up the front of the world's last surviving grand music hall, in Graces Alley, Wapping.

Welcoming the grant from the Heritage

Lottery Fund, Wilton's managing director Frances Mayhew said: "This means that we can finally take the permanent steps needed to stop this much-loved building from falling down."

The work will complete the full preservation of the grade II listed building, following the re-opening of the repaired Grand Hall in February.

Wilton's has been seeking to raise £2.6 million over the past year, and the lottery grant will make a significant contribution towards this target.

It means work can start on repairing the fabric of the building, which started life as a music hall venue for can-can dancers.

Later used as a Methodist mission that retained the name of the Mahogany Bar, serving tea and cocoa instead of ale and porter, it has also been a rag warehouse and film location.

Wilton's was saved from destruction in the 1960s slum clearances by a campaign led by the former Poet Laureate, Sir John Betjeman.

By the time the work is completed – due in 2015 – an extra 40 per cent of the building will be opened up for use, part of which will be transformed into a new learning and participation studio.

It will also secure its future as an arts and heritage venue, enabling more artistic programming and the opportunity for a range of community and learning activities.

BOW residents, Mayor Lutfur Rahman and a host of guests welcomed the Duchess of Gloucester to a gala celebrating the 60th anniversary of the Queen's coronation. The Duchess unveiled a plaque to formally re-open the Francis Lee Community Centre, in Hawthorn Avenue, on her visit last Thursday, which coincided with her own birthday. The Weavers team get to work on their cart

Weavers put their all into the race

It's all go at Mudchute

The winning Anonymous LOL team from Mudchute Farm

BY JESSICA ODUBAYO

THRILL seekers from across London converged at Mudchute Farm on the Isle of Dogs for a racing event with a difference.

The All London Go-Kart Grand Prix 2013 saw 12 teams of children and young people from adventure playgrounds and community groups across the capital race against the clock to build a go-kart from scratch – and then race against each other.

The farm's geese and llamas looked on as the sound of hammering, sawing and laughter filled their usual tranquil environment.

One or two people admitted to having built a go-kart before the event on Sunday, June 15 and the results were impressive.

After four hours of busy construction, a dozen karts lined up to start the race.

The challenging racetrack included a downhill section, long grass and a home straight with karters reaching daring speeds.

The two finalists were Lewisham's Ladywell Adventure Playground and the Anonymous LOL team from Mudchute Farm.

Mudchute went on to take the winner's trophy, and Hackney Marshes' Viper 9 all gold kart was awarded 'best design'.

Other Tower Hamlets teams which took part include Play Association Tower Hamlets, The Mighty Weavers Adventure Playground and Chistlebots community group.

Tyler, driver of the winning go-kart, said: "It was easy with Ben pushing." Fellow karter Cressida added: "But of course, we can't forget the mechanics behind the design."

Give your business a boost at free event

ENTREPRENEURS and business owners in and around Tower Hamlets have the chance to attend a free event that could help boost their business.

Kickstarting a range of council plans to support local enterprise, the event is designed to help local business owners network and tell council officers what they need.

Taking place on Monday, June 24 from 5.30-8pm at West India Quay's Marriott Hotel, the event is part of the council's enterprise strategy, a document which sets out its approach to encouraging growth and developing the borough's economy and its enterprises.

The evening will include a seminar and keynote speech, plus a range of business-related stalls and light refreshments.

Mayor Lutfur Rahman said: "Tower Hamlets has a thriving economy and is home to businesses ranging from small start-ups with modest turnovers to global financial institutions based at Canary Wharf."

Cllr Alibor Choudhury, cabinet member for resources, said: "This event aims to bring those businesses together so they can promote what they do, and officers can find out what the council could be doing to better support them."

Places are free for businesses in Tower Hamlets and the surrounding areas, but must be booked in advance by contacting business.forum@towerhamlets.gov.uk

Local heroes honoured

BY JESSICA ODUBAYO

THE achievements and extraordinary service of people in Tower Hamlets has been recognised in this year's Queen's Birthday Honours list.

Seventy two per cent of this year's awards were for people who are actively engaged in charitable or voluntary work within their community.

Local recipients include Dean Pursell, who received a British Empire Medal (BEM) for his armed forces charity work.

Mr Pursell, a retired warrant officer, left the Army in 1984 and went on to work for the Merchant Navy pension fund.

Following his final retirement from paid work, he joined Soldiers', Sailors' and Airmen's Families Association (SSAFA), the charity that provides lifelong support for forces and their families.

Since 2002, he has been the lead case worker in the East London division and has helped more than a thousand veterans and their families.

"Dean's rapport with the elderly veteran community is widely admired and locally he is known as somewhat of a hero – although his modest response in every case would be to say that he was 'just doing his job,' a spokeswoman for SSAFA said. Mr Pursell told East End Life that he felt extremely emotional about the honour.

Idwal Bellis, a yeoman warder, or Beefeater, at the Tower of London, was awarded the Royal Victorian Medal. He has worked as a Beefeater for 22 years, and served in the Welsh Guards for 24 years before that.

He said: "I'm absolutely stunned and thrilled to receive the RVM, it is such a great honour to be awarded this by HM The Queen. After more than 22 years of service as a yeoman warder at the Tower of London I still enjoy living and working here. It's been a wonderful experience and I can't imagine being anywhere else."

Maire Tejani, from Bethnal Green, was made a Member of the British Empire (MBE) for her services to education and charity through her work with Yaarah Sue Bowers, head of Heritage Lottery Fund London, said: "We are delighted to be able to help save the oldest music hall in the world. This truly unique project will enable the rebirth of one of London's most remarkable theatrical buildings.

Clampdown on anti-social behaviour

THE council and police are stepping up the fight against drug dealers, gangs and anti-social behaviour, with the introduction of a new dispersal zone.

After the successful rollout of a similar zone in Bethnal Green earlier this year, the council has approved a police application for a temporary dispersal zone encompassing a larger area in Bethnal Green South from June 24 to November 10.

It follows complaints of drug dealing, residents feeling intimidated and anti-social behaviour in the area. The issuing of anti-social behaviour injunction orders and extended patrols have not resolved the problems.

Business owners have also complained that groups loiter outside their premises and harass their customers.

Deputy Mayor Cllr Ohid Ahmed said: "Anti-social behaviour is not acceptable and will not be tolerated. I am confident the dispersal zone will improve the quality of life for residents and businesses based here."

The zone will cover the area bounded by the railway line between Cambridge Heath Road and Globe Road to the north; Cambridge Heath Road, Darling Row, Collingwood Street, Headlam Street and Buckhurst Street to the west; Mile End Road, Assembly Passage and Adelina Grove to the south; and Globe Road to the east.

'Inadequate pest control' at Azka and Lahore

A BETHNAL Green restaurant and its takeaway neighbour have been fined for breaches of food hygiene regulations.

Environmental health officers visited Azka Restaurant and Lahore Express Takeaway in Bethnal Green Road in April 2012 and noted contraventions of food hygiene regulations.

Manik Miah, director of Azka, was fined £4,535 at Thames Magistrates' Court on May 20 after pleading guilty to six food hygiene offences including inadequate pest control procedures and inadequate staff training.

New Lahore Express Ltd and Ghayasudin Shibzada, manager of New Lahore Express takeaway, were fined £3,002 by the court on May 23 for breaches of food hygiene regulations.

Both pleaded guilty to six offences, including a mouse infestation, no staff training, and contamination of food equipment and wrapping material.

Be part of healthy future for borough

BY MEHREEN HUSSAIN

A NEW independent organisation that will champion health and social care in the borough will be launched next week.

And residents are invited to go along to find out more about Healthwatch Tower Hamlets, how they can get involved and give their views about local services.

The new group is resident-led and one of 152 local Healthwatch bodies in England.

Amjad Rahi, chair of Healthwatch Tower Hamlets, said:

"This is a great opportunity for local people to have their say. We look forward to hearing their views and experiences, to feed back to the relevant services."

The launch event takes place on Tuesday, July 2 at the Brady Centre, 192-196 Hanbury Street, Whitechapel from 1-3.30pm and will include free health checks, face painting, a children's play area and a crèche.

Mayor Lutfur Rahman said: "Healthwatch is an important organisation which will ensure health services are held accountable. I urge residents to come along and get involved."

Cllr Abdul Asad, cabinet member for health and wellbeing, added: "We will be working with Healthwatch to improve health and social care services for our residents."

Healthwatch Tower Hamlets will be working with local GPs through the borough's Clinical Commissioning Group, and with the Health and Wellbeing Board and the council.

As well as attending the event, there are a number of other ways for residents to get involved. Visit www.healthwatchtowerhamlets.co.uk or call 0800 145 5343 (freephone).

Festival giveaway is just the ticket

HUNDREDS of residents took advantage of our free ticket giveaway last week for the Open East festival and Hard Rock Calling concert at Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park.

Council staff were inundated with calls and emails from people eager to get their hands on the tickets we've been able to give away, thanks to a partnership with Live Nation and the London Legacy Development Corporation.

This partnership dates back to the Olympic and Paralympic Games – a time of great pride for Tower Hamlets and the other host boroughs.

Over the coming weeks, more tickets for events like the Wireless Festival and Electric Daisy Carnival will be available, so please try again if you weren't successful this time.

Last week I had the pleasure of meeting the Duchess of Gloucester at a Coronation Gala, organised by residents to celebrate the 60th anniversary of the coronation of the Queen.

Joined by Army cadets and colleagues from the police and fire brigade, I also had the privilege of meeting the Deputy Secretary-General of the Commonwealth, Mmasekgoa Masire-Mwamba, who attended the celebration on her first ever visit to our borough.

It was a great event which, in true Tower Hamlets style, brought different people together to mark an important event in our history.

Regular readers of East End

LUTFUR RAHMAN MAYOR OF TOWER HAMLETS

Life will know that last week, the consultation on the future of London's fire services closed.

A number of times, I have publicly expressed my concerns about the proposed cuts – which could include the loss of 80 jobs and closure of Bow fire station.

I have also written to the mayor of London, Boris Johnson, to outline how the plans will endanger lives in this borough.

As we wait to hear the outcome of the consultation, I hope that residents have made their voices known on the issue.

We cannot afford to lose vital emergency services locally.

Next week, we'll be launching a grant to help students go to university.

The Mayor's Higher Education Award will give 400 students £1,500 towards university fees.

There's absolutely no reason why our young people should not have the chance to go to university and, following the interest we had in the Mayor's Education Awards, this scheme looks set to be popular.

Check the council website for more information.

Grants boost chances of finding long-term work

BY EMILY BLACKSHAW

NEARLY £400,000 has been awarded to voluntary organisations and community groups which help local people trying to find long-term employment.

Forty-seven local organisations will use the funding – awarded through the Mayor's ESF Community Grants programme – to provide a range of activities including work experience placements, CV advice and accredited training to job hunters.

The funding is part of the 2007-13 London European Social Fund, which is run by London Councils, a think tank and lobbying organisation that represents the capital's 33 boroughs.

Thanks to a joint agreement between Tower Hamlets Council and London Councils, the borough has access to an additional £1.29 million in funding from the European Social Fund, which has also been match-funded, pound for pound, by the council.

Presenting the awards, Mayor Rahman said: "Tower Hamlets has a thriving voluntary and community sector and I'm keen to make sure the council supports the work of these valuable organisations.

"Helping residents find sustainable employment is a key priority for the council, so it's important we work with other organisations which are experts in this field, to ensure residents can benefit from the range of support available in the borough."

The grants are part of the second round of the Mayor's ESF Grants Programme, which was launched in January.

Funding decisions were approved by a steering group comprising London Councils, the Greater London Authority and Tower Hamlets Council.

Round 2 of the programme is being assessed and announcements are expected in July. Round 3 will open in 2014.

LUTFUR RAHMAN MAYOR OF TOWER HAMLETS

My diary

Friday, June 14

I spoke at a rally with the Fire Brigade Union against cuts to fire stations in Tower Hamlets. We need to stand in solidarity with the union, as these cuts will put residents' lives at risk.

I hope all residents will join me in making sure that no fire stations are closed in our borough.

I also launched the Bangladeshi Stop

Tobacco Project. Ramadan is a time to overcome unhealthy habits, and should be seen as an ideal time to quit tobacco. By working closely with Tower Hamlets Public Health and community organisations, we are able to continue building on past achievements to reduce tobacco prevalence, while protecting the community from its harmful effects.

Sunday, June 15

I attended the Newark Youth London's 29th award ceremony at the Harford Street Multi Centre. We celebrated the achievements of young people in sports and it was great to see so many of them taking an active interest and striving to be the best in their individual field.

Friday, June 19

I was joined by Len McCluskey, the general secretary of Unite Union, and community leaders for a walkabout and press conference in Whitechapel.

Wednesday, June 26

We have our full council meeting which will include my report, as well as the usual questions from the public and councillors.

Aaron, who was on his way to work in the Canary Wharf area on June 16, climbed on to the ladder and freed the bird.

After being alerted by passers-by, a local canoe club also came to help. Members ferried the swan by canoe to the middle of the river where they freed her.

Be in control of your finances

News from the Financially Inclusive Tower Hamlets Partnership

AS the impact of the government's welfare reform bill starts to be felt by families in Tower Hamlets, money and budgeting support has never been more important and is now making a real difference to those affected by the changes.

At the beginning of April this year we saw the introduction of what has commonly become known as the empty bedroom tax. Some families, who have a spare bedroom and whose rent is paid by housing benefit, have lost between 14 and 25 per cent of their housing benefit.

The Financially Inclusive Tower Hamlets project (FITH) continues to provide one-to-one money support across the borough helping people to budget, access the right financial products and get the most from each pound in their pocket.

The feedback from this service is overwhelmingly positive, with people saying that they have saved money and now feel in control of their household finances.

The FITH project also continues to train people as community money mentors so that they can offer support around money to people in their communities.

This involves 60 hours of training and at the end successful students gain a nationally recognised qualification as well as the chance to volunteer to help their communities.

Two community money mentor groups have also started a one pound a day saving scheme and have worked out that in a year they will have £365 saved just by cutting out a packet of crisps, a fizzy drink, a coffee or a chocolate bar a day.

To find out more about one to one money support or the Community Money Mentors training, email Gary at Money@toynbeehall.org.uk or call 7392 2989.

From August this year another change to benefits is coming to Tower Hamlets called the total benefit cap and this will mean that some families experience a cut in benefits and the money they have to live on.

You can find out more about the total benefits cap at the council website, and the council are running events to provide people with more information about the change and to showcase the support on offer to people who will be affected.

The first event is on July 3 at the London Muslim Centre from 11am, with another event taking place on July 13 at Idea Store Whitechapel from 11am.

We believe that money support can help many families who will be affected by this cut in benefits so please don't hesitate to get in contact.

Whatever your money worries or questions, we can help so get in touch – we are waiting to hear from you!

Toynbee Hall is pleased to announce a new service, funded by the Money Advice Trust, offering advice and support to private tenants who may be affected by the benefit cap and other welfare reform changes.

Due to the expense of renting privately in London, private tenants claiming housing benefit are most likely to be disadvantaged by the benefit cap. Latest figures suggest that approximately 800 private-renting households in Tower Hamlets will have their income reduced after the introduction of the benefit cap August and September this year.

If you rent your home from a private landlord the service will be able to advise and support you.

Tackling problem parking areas

BY SARAH MCLAUGHLIN

PARKING civil enforcement officers (CEOs) have begun patrols with police officers in an effort to reduce intimidation and address persistent parking problem areas.

Businesses and residents have raised concerns in a number of locations across the borough about the abuse of parking regulations.

This is causing problems for people trying to carry out their daily routines, such as going shopping, parking outside their homes, and visiting friends and relatives.

The first joint operation between parking CEOs and police took place in Vyner Street, Bethnal Green, where parking regulations have been persistently abused.

During the joint patrol, four vehicles were moved on for parking illegally.

Another three vehicles displaying suspect scratchcards will be investigated by the council's fraud team.

The maintenance team has been asked to improve road markings in the area.

Vehicles were leafleted before the operation advising that instant penalty charge notices for parking offences will now be issued in Vyner Street.

Deputy Mayor Cllr Ohid

Ahmed said: “Businesses and residents expect the roads in Tower Hamlets to run freely, without congestion caused by careless and illegal parking. Parking civil enforcement officers provide a vital service keeping traffic flowing and reducing congestion.”

Cllr Shahed Ali, cabinet member for environment, said: “CEOs often face abuse and intimidation while going about their day-to-day work. We will not tolerate these actions against our staff and are prepared to investigate and, if necessary, prosecute offenders.”

Help getting Back on Track

A FIREFIGHTER from Whitechapel fire station is spearheading a week of voluntary activities to support the physical and mental wellbeing of long-term unemployed residents.

Starting this Monday, June 24, the Back on Track project includes life coaching, nutrition advice, sport, meditation and job search advice for residents aged between 20 and 30.

Simon Piccirillo, who created the project, enlisted the support of gyms, studios and life coaches who are providing their services free of charge. The council and the London Fire Brigade are also supporting the initiative.

“I have seen first hand the negative effects of unemployment and mental health and at this time more than ever, we feel this project is needed,” Simon said.

Don't want it? Swap it!

RESIDENTS can have a spring clear out and go in search of items they need at a swap event, on Saturday, June 29.

Taking place at Mile End Park Ecology Pavilion, off Grove Road, the event invites people to take along reusable, clean items they no longer want and take away things they like, for free.

Books, DVDs, CDs, clothes, paired shoes, toys and bric-a-brac can be taken along any time between 11am and 4pm on the day. They must be clean, in good condition and something that you are proud to hand on.

Large items can also be swapped, such as furniture or even a shed – just take a photo or description of the item with contact details to place on the noticeboard.

Items such as household batteries, printer cartridges, low energy light bulbs and small electrical appliances – for example, hairdriers, toasters, kettles and mobile phones – can be taken along for recycling, but cannot be swapped.

Call 7364 5004, email recycling@towerhamlets.gov.uk or visit www.towerhamlets.gov.uk/recycling

News in brief

Kate's Place2Be

THE Duchess of Cambridge has become the royal patron of an organisation that provides support to schools in the East End.

Place2Be provides emotional and mental health support services to the pupils, parents and teachers at Cyril Jackson Primary School in Limehouse.

It has been working with ten schools across Tower Hamlets, Hackney and Newham since January 2011.

The service offers swift access to counselling and other support for individuals and groups of pupils. It also offers training and advice for teachers and school-based staff.

Pupils bling it to win it

BY MEHREEN HUSSAIN

ST Elizabeth Catholic Primary School in Bethnal Green celebrated National Bike to School Week with a range of cycling-related activities.

The children started the week with a 'bling your bike' competition where they were asked to decorate their cycles on the theme of summer.

Youngsters who cycled to school during the week – which ran from June 10-14 – were also entered into a daily prize draw for a cycling goody bag.

A bikers' breakfast for adults and children who went to school by bike was held and towards the end of the week a 'super sleuth' selected bikes at random to receive prizes.

Ellie, Skyla, Jemima and Jessica with their 'blinged' bikes

St Elizabeth's is a Bike It school and prides itself on having a high number of children and adults who cycle.

Pupils are appointed as bike marshals to promote cycling and manage the school's bike shed. Cycle safety training is provided to children in years 5 and 6 and is also available for adults.

Both children and adults have also had access to cycle maintenance training with plans to provide more of this in the near future.

A MUMS' group whose children attend Stebon Primary School in Poplar presented the school with a wall hanging they created. The women have set up a small business called Mohila Creations which they hope will inspire others to set up similar ventures. Another group of parents has recently started a new knitting group. Head teacher Jeremy Iver and assistant head teacher Gwen Boxall accepted the artwork and thanked the parents for the gift.

PUPILS from Columbia Primary School attended the premiere of their new animated film about old-fashioned music halls at one of the oldest in the world - Wilton's Music Hall in Wapping.

The children have been working on the film as part of an animation project with Skidaddle Animation. After finding out about music halls, the children wrote their own story, made puppets and animated the film about a Victorian music hall. The film is called Wow! - Mayhem in the Music Hall and is full of fun and surprises.

The project was funded by First Light, a British Film Institute initiative with lottery cash.

School delighted with glowing Ofsted report

BY MEHREEN HUSSAIN

MORPETH School in Bethnal Green is the latest in the borough to be given an outstanding rating by education watchdog Ofsted.

The school was praised for its effectiveness in ensuring pupils are equipped to move on to the next stage of their education, training, or employment.

Inspectors found the school had strong and clear-sighted leadership with high morale among teachers, while pupils were said to make rapid progress, with GCSE results well above average and improving.

There is also successful support for pupils with special educational needs and disabled students, while music and the arts made a major contribution to the pupils' excellent moral and cultural development.

Head teacher Sir Alasdair MacDonald said: "We are delighted with Ofsted's findings.

"We have always aimed for excellence, and it is gratifying to see our efforts have paid off.

"We have had a busy few years at Morpeth, with major re-development work going on around us. This clearly did not get in the way of teaching, learning and achieving.

"Ofsted's verdict of outstanding is recognition of the work of the whole school community – pupils, staff, parents, governors and our local authority."

Dr Dan Bader, the chair of governors, said: "This is wonderful news and an exciting time for the school.

"We are delighted with this result, which is a testament to the hard work staff and pupils have put in."

In addition to a new performing arts centre, the school recently completed a building programme which gave it a new sports hall, a music block and new facilities for geography, history, religious studies and special needs classes.

Macie's a marathon marvel

A YOUNG runner who was finally discharged from hospital last year after extensive treatment for a hole in the heart has raised £430 after completing the Mini London Marathon

Macie Wheatley, a pupil at St Saviour's Church of England Primary School in Poplar, raised the cash for Great Ormond Street Children's Hospital.

The 11-year-old, who was born with a hole in the heart, has attended numerous appointments at the hospital.

Her mother, Paula Newland, was delighted when her consultant said she no longer needed to visit the hospital. "It was a huge relief," she said.

Macie is healthy and active and trained for the race at Mile End Stadium with the Tower Hamlets running team.

Children are not required to get sponsorship when running the race, but Macie wanted to give back to the hospital.

"My mum and all my family and friends came along to cheer me on and this made me want to run faster," she said.

Her mum added: "It was amazing. I was tearful – it was such a proud moment for me.

"The hospital has been amazing. It really affects you when you see all those sick children and we wanted to give something, however small towards the work it does"

FILM students at Morpeth School enjoyed an Oscars-style ceremony at Genesis cinema in Mile End last Tuesday, June 18.

The Oscars celebrated the film-making achievements of students across the school and sixth form. As well as being presented with trophies they had the opportunity to see their work on the big screen.

The films included a news report on the 1943 Bethnal Green Tube Disaster, a documentary about Whitechapel Gallery and its youth programme, an interview with Danny Boyle and a variety of fictional films, including opening sequences to thrillers, TV crime dramas and music videos.

Ramadan, a good time to quit

BY STAFF REPORTER

SMOKERS are being urged to quit before the holy month of Ramadan starts next month.

The Quit Tobacco Before Ramadan campaign is being promoted in advance of Ramadan – which this year starts around July 9 – to ensure there is time for residents to quit tobacco with help from the local stop smoking services.

As Ramadan is a time for fasting, praying, forgiveness and purification, the council is promoting the holy month as a time for Muslims to quit tobacco before beginning their cleansing ritual.

Mayor Lutfur Rahman, who attended the launch of the campaign at the East London Mosque on June 14, said: “Ramadan is a time to overcome unhealthy habits, and should be seen as an ideal time to quit tobacco. By working closely with Tower Hamlets Public Health and community organisations, we are building on past achievements to reduce tobacco prevalence, while protecting the community from its harmful effects.”

Tower Hamlets continues to have among the highest levels of smoking and smokeless tobacco use in London with more than 45,000 adults (24.5 per cent) continuing to smoke regularly, compared to the London rate of 21 per cent.

But smoking rates continue to fall as approximately 23 per cent of the population are ex-smokers. Tower Hamlets is currently in the top spot for stop smoking rates with 1,280 successful quits for every 100,000 people.

Cllr Abdul Asad, cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: “There is a wide range of free services available to support those looking to stop smoking or chewing tobacco.”

The campaign is delivered through advisers, imam sermons, health trainers and community health professionals.

The Bangladeshi Stop Tobacco Project offers support to quit in both Bengali and English by male and female advisers. They can be contacted on 7882 8669 (women) or 7882 8660 (men.)

Pharmacist and GPs can also provide advice and support at any time.

History

BY JOHN RENNIE

WERE you or a member of your family a telephone operator in the 1950s or 1960s?

Did a member of your family manage one of the Lyons corner houses that were as much a part of London as red phone boxes, pillar boxes and buses in the middle years of the last century?

If so, the Science Museum wants to hear from you. But for younger readers, a trip in the East End Life time machine is in order.

Today, when many of us are scarcely off the phone (yet increasingly few of us have landlines in our homes) the telecoms world of the 1960s and earlier seems impossibly distant.

Dialling from a Bakelite handset the size of your head; the patience required to watch the dial leisurely return to its starting position after selecting each number (junior readers can watch this in case they are confused <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TWGAKLVhuVI>).

Automated it wasn't, and even after the advent of the dial telephone, London's phone system required 200 or more manual telephone exchanges, dotted around the capital, each manned by an army of telephonists (almost without exception women) who would connect your call or intercede when you had difficulties connecting.

These days we have the Edward Snowden affair and US Government snooping on phone communications; back in the sixties it might be a tea-sipping operator from Poplar's 'EAST' exchange, who would peremptorily cut in on your call to tell you that "your three minutes are nearly up".

It was always slightly disconcerting to have a third-party cut in (let alone the oddness of party lines and your neighbours listening in to your calls), but the phrase "Hello, this is the operator" is one no East End under 50 will ever have heard.

Crucially too, it was the telephonist who took down the details when you wanted to send a telegram (in those days the essential express mode of communication). Telegrams were the medium by which good news (births and wedding congratulations) and bad (war casualties) were delivered) and the operators had to be expert in taking down details exactly right.

But that marvellous regiment of women was – like those other London regiments of typists, bus clippies and matchgirls before them – disbanded. But where did they go?

The Science Museum is trying to track them down, looking for the individual stories of ordinary Londoners who worked in the nascent days of 'new technology' for its new £15.6 million Information Age gallery.

The exchanges had marvellously evocative names – some of which made geographical sense. So the East End had ADVance (Bow and Mile End), EAST for Poplar, ROYal for Wapping (from the Royal Mint), SHOReditch and STEpney Green.

In the days before dialling, you would lift the receiver and ask for Shoreditch 236; once dials came in the first three letters would be grouped around the dial, allowing you to select SHO236. Gradually letters were abandoned and 'all number dialling' supplanted it.

The story of Lyons is stranger still. For this quaint organisation, itself spun from a company started by two East End Jews, went on to play a pivotal role in the development of the computer. It is as if, in the words of New Scientist magazine a few years back, "Pizza Hut had developed a new generation of microprocessor, or McDonald's had invented the internet."

Samuel Gluckstein and Barnett Salmon came to London in the middle of the 19th century and founded what would become the largest tobacconist chain in the world. Their story is for another day, as it was a spin-off company led by Montague Gluckstein that would change the course of computing nearly a century later.

Young Montague Gluckstein's chain of teashops (cannily anglicised to 'Joe Lyons') was a huge success – every Londoner had drunk a cup of tea in a Lyons corner shop at some point in his or her life.

And Lyons were always looking for ways to streamline their business – as anyone in retail knows, the profits are in the detail, and the company saw automated systems as the way forward for stock control, cashing up, payroll and the rest.

So it was in the late 1940s, that Lyons' money developed the world's first business computer. Lyons gave computing pioneers Sir Maurice Wilkes, John Pinkerton and David Caminer the money and the freedom to get to work. Wilkes, a Cambridge scientist, had led the development of the Electronic Delay Storage Automatic Calculator (Edsac). Caminer, later dubbed "the world's first corporate electronic systems analyst", had been born David Treisman in the East End.

After service in World War II (losing a leg at the Battle of Mareth in Tunisia), he and Pinkerton did the design work on what would become the Lyons Electronic Office (LEO) I computer.

As early as 1951, it was being used for bakery valuation calculations. Three years later, it was preparing the payslips of the 1,700 weekly-paid employees at the Lyons bakery near Olympia, west London.

Leo Computers Ltd was set up to sell the LEO and its successors (LEO II and LEO III) to other companies. The General Post Office (at that point running those telephone exchanges of course), Customs and Excise, the Ministry of Pensions and Ford motors took LEOs.

The machines were sold to Australia, South Africa and even behind the Iron Curtain, to the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia. The company became part of English Electric and then ICL – the Labour government's attempt to expand the British computer industry into the global market in the late 1960s. Cue hurrahs and Britain leading the IT revolution... so why are we talking about Microsoft and Apple today, rather than Lyons? Alas the company went the way of British cars, motorcycles, ships and... well you complete the list.

But maybe you or yours operated LEO back in the 1960s? Or maybe you were one of those operators taking down details of telegrams? Maybe you even have one of those surviving printed telegrams? If so, the Science Museum wants to hear from you.

How to take part

গত ৭ জুন পপলারের ক্রিসপ স্ট্রিট মার্কেটে আনুষ্ঠানিকভাবে এই টিমের কার্যক্রম উদ্বোধন করা হয়। এতে সংশ্লিষ্ট কর্মকর্তারা উপস্থিত ছিলেন।

২০১১ সালে গঠিত একটি পার্টনারশীপ টাস্কফোর্সের ব্যাপক সাফল্যের প্রেক্ষিতে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ কাউন্সিলের তহবিলে নতুন এই ১৯ সদস্য বিশিষ্ট পার্টনারশীপ টাস্ক ফোর্স (পিটিএফ) ২ গঠন করা হলো। এই পিটিএফ ২০১৫ সাল পর্যন্ত দায়িত্ব পালন করবে।

প্রথম পিটিএফ এর কার্যক্রমের ফলে গত বছর ৪৪৪ জনকে গ্রেফতার করা হয় এবং গাঁজা বা মাদক রাখার দায়ে ১৬৭টি পরোয়ানা জারি করা হয়।

দ্বিতীয় পার্টনারশীপ টাস্ক ফোর্স এর কার্যক্রম উদ্বোধনকালে নির্বাহী মেয়র লুৎফুর রহ-

মান বলেন, পার্টনারশীপ টাস্ক ফোর্সের দ্বিতীয় পর্ব শুরু করতে পেরে আমি খুবই আনন্দিত। কাউন্সিলের অর্থায়নে গঠিত নতুন পিটিএফ এর পুলিশ অফিসাররা পতিতাবৃত্তি এবং গ্যাং সম্পর্কিত অপরাধ নির্মূলে কাজ করবেন।

তিনি বলেন, কমিউনিটির সার্বিক নিরাপত্তা বিধান করা আমার সর্বোচ্চ অগ্রাধিকারগুলোর একটি এবং এই বিনিয়োগের ফলে আমাদের রাস্তাগুলো আগের চেয়ে অনেক নিরাপদ হবে।

টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটসের ডেপুটি মেয়র, কাউন্সিলর আহিদ আহমদ বলেন, নতুন একদল পুলিশ অফিসার মাঠে নামানোর মাধ্যমে আমরা এই বার্ডাটাই দিতে চাই যে, আমরা কোন অবস্থাতেই সমাজ বিরোধী আচরণ বরদাশত করবো না। বাসিন্দাদের জীবন যাত্রার মান আরো উন্নত করতে, আমরা সমাজ থেকে সকল ধরনের অপরাধ নির্মূলে আমরা সর্বাঙ্গিক প্রচেষ্টা চালিয়ে যাবো।

উল্লেখ্য, টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ বারায় এন্টি সোশ্যাল বিহেভিয়ার বা সমাজ বিরোধী

আচরণমূলক কার্যকলাপের হার কমতে থাকলেও নতুন টিম এই হারকে আরো কমিয়ে আনতে কাজ করে যাবে।

প্রকাশ্যে রাস্তায় পতিতাবৃত্তি রোধে কাজ করতে ৩ জন কন্সটেবল ও ১ সার্জেন্ট নিয়ে গঠন করা হবে ভাইস টিম, যারা টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ এনফোর্সমেন্ট অফিসারদের সাথে মিলে কাজ করবে।

১ সার্জেন্টের নেতৃত্বে ৪ পুলিশ সদস্য নিয়ে গঠন করা হবে ড্রাগস্ টিম, যারা ডিলার এ ডে প্রোগ্রামের আওতায় কাজ করবে।

টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ এর নির্বাহী মেয়র লুৎফুর রহমান আসন্ন রামাদান এর আগেই ধূমপান পরিত্যাগে ধূমপায়ীদের উদ্বুদ্ধ করতে একটা বিশেষ প্রচারাভিযান উদ্বোধন করেছেন।

আগামী ৯ জুলাই থেকে পবিত্র রামাদান শুরু হবে এবং এই পবিত্র মাস শুরুর কয়েক সপ্তাহ আগেই ধূমপান পরিত্যাগের ক্যাম্পেইন শুরু করা হলো, যাতে করে ধূমপায়ীরা স্থানীয় স্টপ স্মোকিং সার্ভিসের সহায়তা নিয়ে রোজার মাস শুরুর আগেই ধূমপানের অভ্যাস পরিত্যাগ করতে পারেন।

যেহেতু পবিত্র রামাদান হচ্ছে উপবাস, ইবাদত, ক্ষমা ও গুনাহ থেকে মাফ পাওয়ার মাস, সেহেতু এই পবিত্র মাসে যাতে মুসলমানদের ধূমপানের অভ্যাস ছাড়তে উদ্বুদ্ধ করতে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ কাউন্সিল এই বিশেষ প্রচারাভিযান শুরু করেছে।

ইস্ট লন্ডন মসজিদে ‘কুইট টোব্যাকো বিফোর রামাদান’ শীর্ষক এই ক্যাম্পেইনের উদ্বোধন কালে নির্বাহী মেয়র লুৎফুর রহমান বলেন, স্বাস্থ্যের জন্য ক্ষতিকর যে কোন অভ্যাস পরিত্যাগের উৎকৃষ্ট সময় হচ্ছে রামাদান, এবং ধূমপান ছাড়ার জন্য এই মাসটিকে উপযুক্ত সময় হিসেবে বিবেচনা করা হয়। টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটসের গণ স্বাস্থ্য বিভাগ এবং কমিউনিটি সংগঠনগুলোর সাথে অত্যন্ত ঘনিষ্ঠভাবে কাজ করার মাধ্যমে আমরা

ধূমপান ও তামাক জাতীয় পণ্য সেবন পরিত্যাগের হার ক্রমান্বয়ে বাড়াতে সক্ষম হচ্ছি।

উল্লেখ্য, ধূমপান ও তামাক জাতীয় পণ্য সেবনের ক্ষেত্রে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটসের অবস্থান লন্ডনের মধ্যে শীর্ষে। প্রায় ৪৫ হাজার লোক (২৪.৫ শতাংশ) নিয়মিত ধূমপান কিংবা তামাক জাতীয় পণ্য সেবন করে থাকেন। লন্ডনের ক্ষেত্রে এই হার হচ্ছে ২১ শতাংশ। সাউথ এশিয়ান কমিউনিটিতে ধূমাবিহীন তামাক সেবনের প্রবণতা খুব বেশি এবং কখনও কখনও সিগারেট কিংবা ছক্কা পানের সাথে সাথে তামাক জাতীয় পণ্যও লোকজন সেবন করে থাকেন।

তবে আশার কথা হচ্ছে, ধূমপান পরিত্যাগের হার ক্রমেই বাড়ছে, মোট জনসংখ্যার ২৩ ভাগ লোক হচ্ছেন সাবেক ধূমপায়ী। বর্তমানে ধূমপান পরিত্যাগের তালিকার শীর্ষের রয়েছে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্, প্রতি এক লাখ মানষের মধ্যে ১ হাজার ২৪০ জন ধূমপায়ী সাফল্যের সাথে তাদের এই অভ্যাস পরিত্যাগ করতে সক্ষম হয়েছেন।

টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটসের হেলথ এন্ড ওয়েলবিয়িং বিষয়ক কেবিনেট মেম্বর, কাউন্সিলর আব্দুল আসাদ বলেন, ধূমপান পরিত্যাগে স্থানীয় বাসিন্দাদের সহযোগিতা প্রদানের ক্ষেত্রে আমরা অনেক অগ্রগতি অর্জন করলেও আমরা বিশ্বাস করি এক্ষেত্রে আরো অনেক অনেক উন্নতি করতে হবে। যারা ধূমপান ও তামাক জাতীয় পণ্য

সেবনের অভ্যাস পরিত্যাগ করতে চান, তাদের জন্য গোটা বারায় বিভিন্ন ধরনের ফ্রি সার্ভিস রয়েছে।

উল্লেখ্য, ২০০৭ সালে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ কাউন্সিল, টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ পাবলিক হেলথ এবং অন্যান্য গুরুত্বপূর্ণ সংস্থার সমন্বয়ে গঠন করা হয় দ্যা টোব্যাকো কন্ট্রোল এ্যালয়েন্স, যারা সংঘবদ্ধভাবে ধূমপান নিরোধে ধূমপায়ীদের নিরুৎসাহিত ও সচেতন করার পাশাপাশি নানাভাবে কাজ করে যাচ্ছে। রোজার আগেই ধূমপান পরিত্যাগের এই ক্যাম্পেইনের অংশ

হিসেবে ইমামরা তাদের খুব্বায় ধূমপানের নিয়ে ধর্মীয় বিধিনিষেধ তুলে ধরবেন এবং পরামর্শক ও স্বাস্থ্য কর্মীরা ধূমপান পরিত্যাগে প্রয়োজনীয় সহযোগিতা ও উপদেশ প্রদান করবেন। বারার বিভিন্ন এলাকায় বাংলাদেশী স্টপ টোব্যাকো প্রজেক্ট এর কার্যক্রম দেখা যাবে। তারা স্থানীয় বাসিন্দাদের এই সার্ভিসের আওতায় আনবে এবং বাংলা ও ইংরেজী ভাষী পুরুষ ও মহিলা পরামর্শকরা পরামর্শ প্রদান করবেন। তাদের সাথে যোগাযোগের নাম্বার হচ্ছে ০২০ ৭৮৮২ ৮৬৬৯ (মহিলা) অথবা ০২০ ৭৮৮২ ৮৬৬০ (পুরুষ)।

Graham Barker discovers a trail of Mercers' maidens as he walks between Whitechapel and Watney Market Idea Stores. Photos by Kois Miah.

THE borough's five Idea Stores are located in the heart of the community, alongside busy markets.

On this route you'll walk between two of them – going from the largest, at Whitechapel to the newest, at Watney Market. Along the way, there's a series of Mercers' maidens to spot.

Before setting off, nip into Idea Store Whitechapel (1). Designed by architect David Adjaye, it rises in blue and green glass above the market stalls. Inside, you might see toddlers at story-time, visitors surfing the net or students at ESOL classes.

This philosophy of 'library, learning and information' under one roof – revolutionary when first developed over a decade ago – has since become a model for libraries elsewhere.

A few steps on, golden letters arc over the former Albion Brewery of Mann, Crossman & Paulin. The company's emblem – George and the dragon – appears on the clock tower behind.

The Blind Beggar nearby is still remembered as the pub where Ronnie Kray shot fellow gangster George Cornell in 1966. As bullets flew, the jukebox played The Sun Ain't Gonna Shine Anymore. Rest assured, it's much safer nowadays.

By this crossroads – exactly one mile distant from the City wall at Aldgate – the Mile End tollgate once stood. As you walk beside tree-lined Mile End Waste, look out for No 27a – a confection of Edwardian baroque – built for the Albion Brewery's engineer.

Peer through the railings of Trinity Green (2). These almshouses were built in 1695 at the behest of sea captain Henry Mudd for "28 decay'd Masters and Comanders of Ships or ye Widows of such". Model galleons decorate the end gables.

The colourful mural (3) – commissioned by solicitors TV Edwards – depicts over 20 famous faces associated with the neighbourhood, including Captain James Cook, the Queen, and artists Gilbert and George.

Nearby, William Booth (4) chose Mile End Waste to begin preaching in 1865. His military-style uniforms and soup kitchens ensured he was noticed. From that modest start, the Salvation Army grew into a world-wide organisation.

Now cross Mile End Road and head through O'Leary Square. It's home to Rinkoff's, a Jewish family bakery established in 1911 and serving pastries, bagels and rye breads.

There's a white bust of a crowned woman, known as the Mercers' maiden (5), inset into the façade of Grove Dwellings on Adelina Grove. The Mercers' Company – one of the ancient City livery companies – owned extensive land in Stepney and used the maiden emblem to badge its buildings.

Around the corner, Jubilee Street – commemorating the Golden Jubilee of George III in 1810 – includes two facing terraces, detailed with Gothic glazing, decorative fanlights and balconies.

There's another Mercers' maiden inset into Lindley House. Today however, you head left into Smithy Street, where a mosaic menagerie of colourful creatures jumps out from the school wall.

Opposite, cut through the Clichy Estate (6). The estate was named after Stepney's twin town in France and its blocks have Francophile names, set around a central precinct.

Beyond nine-storey Odette Duval House you'll find the Stepney Meeting House. This congregation was first established in 1644 but the present building, with a shallow concrete dome and large cross, replaced an earlier church destroyed in the Blitz.

The undertakers, Tadman's, stand on the corner of Jubilee Street and feature another Mercers' maiden. Thomas Tadman – initially a horse trader – set up in Stepney in 1849. Six generations later, you'll still see their horse-drawn hearses leading funeral corteges with pomp and dignity.

Further on, Dempsey Street School was converted in 2003 to create Stepney City Apartments (7) and Jubilee Mansions proudly displays its 1921 date stone.

Head along Ashfield Street and through Sidney Square, a leafy enclave with some well-preserved 1820s houses. The housing style changes – to fiery red-brick – as you continue towards Ford Square.

A blue plaque (8) at No 91 marks the childhood home of Jack Cohen, founder of Tesco. He started out by selling surplus wartime foodstuffs at London markets, now his supermarkets are seemingly everywhere.

Opposite at No 84a, with rust-coloured ply cladding, Elektra House presents a windowless façade to the street. Like Idea Store Whitechapel, it was designed by David Adjaye, but the contrast could not be greater. The neighbouring terrace – restored by the Heritage of London Trust – makes a friendlier prospect.

Below Ford Square, the Esha'Atul Islam mosque and madrassa – established in 1983 – is based in a white-washed former fashion warehouse. It's a sign that we're in the historic heartland of the East End rag trade.

Back in Sidney Square, nip beside Woolon House. You emerge into Jubilee Gardens (9), a park surrounded by cottages, with skyline views towards the new blue-glass Royal London Hospital.

At Commercial Road, there are landmarks in all directions. The Congregation of Jacob (10) – topped with a Star of David – is one of three active East End synagogues. It was founded to serve Eastern European immigrants and incorporates a remarkable folk-art interior.

The George Tavern (11) superseded the Halfway House, a 12th century tavern mentioned by Chaucer and Pepys. Today it's a hub for musicians and other creatives, thanks to the landlady, artist Pauline Forster.

Opposite, St Mary and St Michael's Church (12) was one of the first major Roman Catholic churches in the East End, built in 1856 to cater mainly for the growing Irish population nearby.

Another Mercers' maiden looks down from the former United Dairies depot on Sutton Street. Now skirt around Sonali Gardens; Sonali is Bengali for 'golden' and this Link-Age day centre offers activities and support to the older Bangladeshi community.

At the other end of Tarling Street, take a peek at the award-winning Winterton House organic community garden, complete with chickens, ducks and rabbits.

Watney Market (13) was redeveloped in the 1970s, on the site of a Victorian market boasting over 200 shops and stalls. As you approach, six seating blocks – the Shadwell Soundwaves – are inscribed with "Do you remember when Sainsbury's... cut the butter?" and other local memories.

The statue of Sir William Booth

Browse the stalls – offering good-value fabrics and food – before finishing at the new Idea Store (14) on Commercial Road. Pop inside to see what's on offer, including a lending library, internet access and a One Stop Shop for residents to access council services.

Designed by architects Bisset Adams, it's the borough's first public eco-building – planted with a 'green roof' and insulated with quadruple glazing. There are plans to make it a focal point for health projects and employment opportunities. It's certainly worth investigating.

Out & About

Festival promises 14 days of heaven for film lovers

BY TOM SHEEN

THE East End Film Festival is back and bigger than ever as it stretches over two weeks for the first time in its 12-year history.

Famed for bringing new films and documentaries to audiences, this year's event boasts 16 world premieres, two European premieres and 28 UK premieres and 20 London premieres.

The festival focuses on first- and second-time film-makers.

Artistic director Alison Poltock said: "The festival has undergone some seismic movements, but none more so than this year.

"It is two weeks of the best cutting-edge voices in cinema, found in the less obvious places – a mixture of art, music and political discourse."

The festival opens with a screening of The UK Gold.

Narrated by The Wire's Dominic West and featuring music from Radiohead's Thom Yorke and Massive Attack's Robert Del Naja, the documentary follows a battle between a vicar from Hackney and a political and financial heavyweight, revealing the City's role as one of the tax avoidance capitals of the world.

It features interviews with investigative journalist Nicolas Shaxson, Private Eye's Richard Brooks and Channel 4 News presenter Jon Snow. Playing at The Troxy in Limehouse, the gala screening will be followed by a special musical performance.

Jon Snow in The UK Gold

Closing night features the UK premier of Lovelace, a feature on the tragic story of Linda Lovelace, the infamous adult actress of the 1970s.

Other highlights are Indian feature Miss Lovely, which follows two brothers in Mumbai's trashy movie scene and A Field in England, from controversial British director Ben Wheatley, who will be in attendance along with cast and crew.

The festival runs from June 25 to July 10 with screenings taking place at locations, including The Troxy, Rich Mix, and Genesis Cinema.

Poppies' perfect portion

Fresh fish, crispy chips and silver service with a smile

BY HUNGRY HIPPO

POPPIES has become a must-visit destination in the past couple of years, forging a reputation as one of the best chippies in London.

In fact, so good are their fish and chips that the restaurant was a finalist in the National Fish & Chip Awards 2013, putting it in the top three in the UK.

Some small restaurants struggle to keep up their reputation after basking in such glory, substituting quality for greater output as they become more popular.

But Poppies does not suffer from this problem.

Decked out in nostalgic pictures and décor, giving it a feel of the 'old' East End, the restaurant is always busy, the food is still excellent and the staff are an absolute pleasure to deal with.

I skipped starters but my dining partner opted for a cod fishcake, so good, she said, that she wished she'd have got one for her main course.

She was soon to be proved wrong on that count after ordering her plaice and chips.

The food comes out quickly at Poppies, but rather than being a worrying sign that the food is there waiting for you, it adds to the freshness of the fish and chips and proves that the restaurant, and takeaway, is heaving.

Her plaice was huge and she enjoyed every mouthful of it, the batter being

Poppies is forging a reputation as one of the best chippies in London crisp and not too greasy, with the fish expertly cooked inside. The chips are beautiful as well, not greasy, but soft on the inside and crispy on the outside.

Not being a fan of fish (I know, I know) I had a steak pie and chips with a side order of mushy peas and a slice of bread and butter. All were excellent.

We somehow managed to make room for dessert. I had a lovely sticky toffee pudding and my partner an apple pie that was also great.

Finally a word on the service, the waiters are constantly moving around the tables, making sure everything is perfect. Each are genuinely friendly and care about the experience you are getting.

Poppies came to £50 for two, including drinks, for a three-course meal and sides – excellent value for the quality on display. Highly recommended.

Poppies is at 6-8 Hanbury St, E1.

Celebrating Decent Homes

BY STAFF REPORTER

RESIDENTS across Tower Hamlets have been celebrating the completion of Decent Homes works in their areas.

The investment in improving thousands of properties is part of a £181 million programme that will see every council home in the borough receive improvements, including a new kitchen and bathroom.

The celebrations – on the Rogers Estate in Bethnal Green on June 8 and on Will Crooks Estate in Poplar on June 2 – were sponsored by Decent Homes contractor Apollo, in partnership with Mayor Lutfur Rahman and Tower Hamlets Homes.

The events were attended by more than 500 residents and featured DJs, bouncy castles, face painting, BBQs, and arts and crafts.

Mayor Rahman, who attended both days, said: "At events like this, it's great to hear from residents how the Decent Homes works have had such a real positive impact on their lives.

"It isn't just about new kitchens and bathrooms – we're creating hundreds of decent jobs for local residents, recruiting 240 apprentices and creating neighbourhoods people can be proud of."

As part of the works, the Splash Community Centre in Poplar was refurbished – creating a new, larger kitchen space that can be used for training.

Poplar resident and centre volunteer Sister Christine Frost said: "Everyone was extremely happy and there was a very happy sense around the estate.

"So many people in the area have benefited from the Decent Homes programme and the works carried out to the Splash Community Centre will create fantastic opportunities for local people to learn new skills."

The programme is entering its third year – more details at www.towerhamletshomes.org

Evicted for dog nuisance

A RESIDENT has been evicted by housing association Poplar Harca after her two dogs caused serious problems for neighbours in the Dod Street area.

The dogs had been let loose in communal areas around Charlesworth House on numerous occasions and had bitten a resident.

Poplar Harca's anti-social behaviour (ASB) team worked with residents, police and the council's animal warden service to obtain an anti-social behaviour injunction on the tenant, prohibiting her from keeping dogs on the property.

When she failed to remove her dogs, the tenant was arrested and taken to court. She was given a two-week suspended jail sentence and, as a result, Poplar Harca was granted an eviction.

The action comes at a time when new legislation around anti-social behaviour reforms for irresponsible dog ownership is being debated by a cross-party committee.

It is estimated that more than 200,000 people in England are bitten by dogs each year, according to the British Medical Journal.

Poplar Harca's head of ASB Jamie Lock said: "We urge other residents to take pet ownership seriously. Eviction is a last resort, but we will take action if residents are at risk.

"We worked closely with neighbours in Charlesworth House on this case, and their reports and continued support made it possible for us to get a resolution on their behalf."

Sergeant Wayne Collett from the Harca policing team said: "This is a great example of how the new partnership team at Poplar Harca is working together to get results for our residents."

Permit Transfer Scheme: for residents moving to 3 bedroom or larger social rented car free homes

The Mayor of Tower Hamlets introduced the new Permit Transfer Scheme (PTS) to operate from 5 September 2011 to help to reduce the levels of overcrowding in social rented housing in the borough. The PTS helps some families move to larger social rented car free homes by allowing them to retain one on-street resident car parking permit, subject to the PTS criteria as outlined below being met. The PTS is a change in the operation of the Council's existing on-street Residents' Parking Permit Scheme.

CAR FREE HOMES No on-street residents' parking permits issued

The Council's 'car free homes' planning policy was introduced in Tower Hamlets in the late 1990s to help reduce traffic congestion and better manage the limited supply of on-street parking spaces. This initiative also helps to reduce the level of air pollution from motor vehicles and encourages more people to walk, cycle and go by public transport.

The Transport for London (TfL) Cycle Hire scheme (www.tfl.gov.uk/cycling) and local pay-as-you-go car clubs (www.carplus.org.uk) are also now available in Tower Hamlets to help you get around in healthier, greener ways.

If you live in a car free home, you will not be able to apply for on-street residents' car parking permits, unless you hold a disabled driver's blue badge or are eligible under the Permit

Transfer Scheme (PTS), which is targeted at social rented housing residents. The criteria for the PTS is as follows:

1. applies to residents moving to 3 bedroom or larger social rented car free homes;
2. only one on-street resident parking permit per household is permitted;
3. you must have held your on-street car parking permit for at least 1 year prior to moving home;
4. your on-street parking permit must be renewed and not lapse to remain eligible under the scheme;
5. the tenant is responsible for providing proof of PTS eligibility to Parking Services (including a duly signed and dated Tower Hamlets Homes or housing association approved tenancy agreement); and

6. the PTS was introduced on (and operates from) 5 September 2011 by Tower Hamlets Council and is not retrospective.

Residents in car free homes can apply for a temporary parking permit for visiting trades people for £5 a day. To qualify, written proof of the work to be carried out must be provided, along with the vehicle's details. Each home can apply for a maximum of 20 one-day-permits within a 6 month period.

Alternatively, scratchcards are available for trades people and visitors, providing parking for up to five hours on weekdays and all day on weekends. Households can apply for up to 3 books of 10 scratchcards per year. For permit charges and information, visit www.towerhamlets.gov.uk/parking

TMO's

Tenant Management Organisations (TMOs) are formed when tenants decide they want to take over the management of their homes. TMOs usually take the form of either a Tenant Management Co-operative (TMC) or an Estate Management Board (EMB). When a TMO take over the management of an estate the Council still owns the homes and the tenants keep the same rights as other Council tenants.

Should you move to a property managed by a Tenant Management Organisation (TMO) you may be expected to contribute to the day to day running of the block & estate.

TMO responsibilities can vary, but may include:

- organising repairs
- deciding on caretaking and estate cleaning priorities
- collecting rent and managing arrears

- employing and managing staff and contractors
 - looking after public gardens and other shared areas
 - controlling any estate improvements
 - providing advice and support to tenants.
- Please be aware of this when bidding for a Tenant Management Organisation (TMO) property.

Youngsters compete in annual SEN sports day

BY SHALINA HUSSAIN

SPORTS fans had the chance to show off their sporting prowess at the annual SEN (special educational needs) sports day at Mile End Stadium.

Richard Fullerton, 24, who attends the Coburn Project in Bow, said: "I took part in the football and 60-metre sprint. I got a medal for taking part and I am so proud of it. I really enjoyed this day and hope there is more like this in the future."

After winning the toss, Homerton reached 142-3. In reply good knocks by Majod, 28, and Adnan, 34 not out, took Masiha to a last-over victory with 144-5.

■ Contenders v Stoke Newington

Marcus and Joe took two wickets apiece as Contenders dismissed Stoke Newington for 127-7. Then Derrick Campbell, 38, and Marcus, 37 not out, saw Contenders home on 129-3.

■ Tower Hamlets v Nightwatchman

Tower Hamlets managed to gain a six wicket victory thanks to massive hits by Shekeel, 50 retired, and Mahbabul, 39, in reply to Nightwatchman's 131-5.

■ New Boys v London Tigers

New Boys' respectable total of 122-6, with Polash top scoring on 39, proved just enough as Tigers fell four runs short of their target.

Virginia girls retain title

Cricket

AFTER the success of the mixed competition, Tower Hamlets Youth Sports Foundation held a girls only KWIK cricket tournament at Victoria Park.

Year 5 and 6 girls from Bygrove, Culloden, Cyril Jackson, Guardian Angels, John Scurr, Lawdale, Marner, Marion Richardson, Mowlem, St Elizabeth, St Paul's, St Peter's Dock and Virginia primary schools took part in the tournament, on Monday, June 17.

After the group stages and the quarter-final, St Elizabeth, Virginia, John Scurr and Guardian Angles made up the final four.

In the first semi-final, Virginia set a huge target of 309 with St Elizabeth only managing 243 in response.

The other match saw John Scurr run up an even bigger score, 311, and though Guardian Angels put on a valiant response, they fell short at 273.

Title holders and defending county champions Virginia went into the final as favourites.

Batting first, they were again in fine form, setting a superb score of 305.

John Scurr had shown throughout the competition that they were capable of big totals themselves, but fell well short, notching 257, to give Virginia the title and send them into the county finals.

Football

A FOOTBALL tournament has helped raise more than £650 for East Living Football Club, a team for players with mental health needs.

Twelve teams took part in the tournament, organised by charity East Thames and the City of London, at Wanstead Flats on June 14, including two from East Living FC, and several from the Charlton South London 7-a-side league, for special needs players.

Thanking those who helped stage the event, coach Marc Paevie said: "The funds will help pay for essentials such as kit and transport, without which the club couldn't function."

BOXING great Barry McGuigan was in Tower Hamlets as part of celebrations to mark the opening of the Olympic Park.

The former World Featherweight Champion was at York Hall on Father's Day, with his son, Shaun, as part of the Barry McGuigan Boxing Academy's Boxing for Health initiative.

offering practical advice and exercise tips.

The sessions, on June 16, were attended by nearly 100 people.

McGuigan, 52, said: "It was a fantastic opportunity to deliver the fifth Boxing for Health event in such a prolific boxing venue as York Hall.

"The residents turned out well to show their support in keeping the flame alive, post the London 2012 Games, and work on their own health and fitness.

"It was an added bonus to be able to work with local families on Father's Day. Being a father of four myself,

"I know the importance of family in leading a healthy lifestyle, as many habits, good and bad, begin in the home."

Each session included a pop-up ring for non-contact boxing training, boxing specific footwork to improve agility and circuit training workouts.

There was also advice on staying motivated, living a healthier lifestyle and eating right.

Residents also had the chance to take part in an aquatics festival and try out water polo, diving and family games.

Cllr Rania Khan, cabinet member for culture said: "York Hall is a fantastic venue, offering some exciting activities for all levels and abilities. With its rich boxing heritage, it's the perfect place to play host to a former boxing champ."
